

ibooking.com BoxOffice

experts in online booking and ticketing

Welcome to iBooking BoxOffice. The ticketing system for Theatre, Cinema and venue web sites. Designed from the ground up as a web-based system, iBooking BoxOffice has been developed to meet the needs of any organisation that needs to sell tickets online for single or multiple venues. Designed to fit around an existing box office operation, or to stand completely independently, iBooking BoxOffice is the most cost-effective, yet powerful solution on the market today.

JUST A FEW OF OUR FEATURES

Simple and Fast

Providing an extremely simple, 4 step booking process for customers, adding iBooking BoxOffice ticket to an existing web site will produce an instant additional revenue stream, freeing up administrative staff, and turning your web site into a powerful new sales channel.

Managing iBooking BoxOffice is just as simple. Login to our secure server and access your account where you can control and configure virtually any aspect of your ticket sales operation.

Automated Payments

With plugins to leading payment solutions including PayPal and Protx you can be taking pre-payment in full for every performance.

Customised to Match Your Web Site

iBooking BoxOffice uses templates and CSS style sheets to match seamlessly with your existing web site. We create your custom booking engine free of charge when you sign up.

Why use iBooking BoxOffice?

- Move your sales operation online quickly, easily and very cost-effectively
- Your customers expect your web site to offer them availability checking and ticket sales – stay ahead of your competition
- You're not replacing a traditional sales channel – you're adding a new one!
- Maintain full control of your online box office, rather than selling through a third-party broker
- Easy customisation to meet the individual requirements of your venue[s].
- A branded interface that matches your web site
Real-time back-end administration for complete control
- Easier cash flow management, as funds go directly to you
- Collects valuable marketing material automatically
- Optional integration with your existing accounting and billing software
- No requirements for additional in-house hardware or software

Visit us at <http://boxoffice.ibooking.com> for more information or to try a demonstration

